French Beading - My World of Beads French Beading is a traditional craft with a long history. Nobody is quite sure why it is called "French Beading" as it is thought to have originated in medieval Venice. This craft is all about using seed beads threaded onto wire which is then shaped to make flowers. It is believed that the craft began when the wives of glass blowers (from Murano in Venice) started using the tiny seed beads formed from off-cuts of glass, to make flower to sell for an additional income.
